Options Volatility / Trade Simulator View:

Technical Analysis: COST with a very strong weekly trend riding the 8 week EMA higher most of 2019 and setting up again with a cup and handle pattern under its recent highs.

Fundamental Analysis: The $130.6B bulk retailer and grocer trades 31.85X Earnings, 0.86X Sales and 56.3X FCF with a 0.88% dividend yield, premium valuation for a best-in-class name. COST is expected to grow revenues 7.1% in FY20 after 7-10% annual growth each of the last three years. Analysts have an average target of $300 on shares and short interest low at 1.3% of the float. BMO raised its target to $320 on 10/4 citing all core metrics remain strong and there is a substantial growth runway domestically and internationally. RBC raised its target to $329 noting it provides some of the best traffic/sales growth while being a scarcity value due to the unique treasure-hunt model and high margin membership model. COST has seen some recent downgrades on "valuation" though no expectations for its business to weaken. Hedge Fund ownership fell 9.74% in Q2 filings.
